A guide to our relationship with you and others

9 October 2026

Support and freedom to thrive, your way.

This Financial Services Guide (FSG) explains the financial services and advice provided by Lifespan Financial Planning Pty Ltd (Lifespan), Australian Financial Services Licence number 229892.

It provides important information about what you can expect when receiving financial advice from us, including the advice process, the documents you may receive, how we protect your privacy, how we manage potential conflicts of interest, and our complaints process.

This FSG must be read in conjunction with your adviser's Adviser Profile, which provides important information about your adviser, including their qualifications and experience, the areas in which they are authorised to provide advice, how they are paid, and the fees and costs you may be charged.

Distribution of this FSG by your adviser, as a Lifespan Authorised Representative, is authorised by Lifespan, the licensee.

This FSG describes our financial planning and advisory services to assist you to decide whether to use our services. It also outlines your rights as a client and our obligations and responsibilities as the licensee and your adviser.

You have the right to ask us about our charges, the type of advice we will provide to you, and what you can do if you have a complaint about our services. This FSG is intended to inform you of certain basic matters relating to our relationship, prior to us providing you with a financial service.

Please refer to our website lifespanfp.com.au for the most up-to-date version of our FSG.

Who provides the financial services offered in the guide?

The financial services are provided by Lifespan and your adviser. When Lifespan and your adviser provide you with financial services, we will act on your behalf and in your best interests.

The key matters covered by the FSG include:

- who Lifespan and your adviser are;
- how we can be contacted;
- how Lifespan and your adviser are paid;
- what services we are authorised to provide to you;
- details of any potential conflicts of interest;
- details of our professional indemnity insurance; and
- details of our dispute resolution procedures and how you can access them.

Statements of Advice and Product Disclosure Statements

You should also be aware that you must receive a Statement of Advice (SOA) and a Product Disclosure Statement(s) when personal advice involving a financial product is provided to you, i.e. advice that takes into consideration your personal objectives, financial position and needs. The SOA will contain the advice, the basis on which it is given, which may have influenced the advice and how Lifespan and your adviser will be remunerated for the advice we give you. If your adviser provides further advice to you, but not in writing, and that further advice is related to the advice provided in a previous SOA, that further advice will be recorded in a Record of Advice (ROA). You may request an ROA from your adviser or Lifespan up to seven years after the further advice was provided, at no additional cost. In the event we make a recommendation to acquire a particular financial product (other than securities), we must also provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement containing information about the particular product's risks, benefits, features and costs to enable you to make an informed decision.

Who is Lifespan?

Lifespan holds an Australian Financial Services Licence, which enables it to act as a financial services provider under the Corporations Act. Lifespan was established in August 1994 and is privately owned by the family interests of the Executive Chairman, John Ardino, who has over 30 years' experience in financial planning. Lifespan provides a wide range of services to a large network of advisers across Australia to enable them to provide advice that is in the best interests of clients.

These services include compliance, supervision, investment research and advice, ongoing professional development and training, an adviser help desk across all financial planning issues and general technical support and advice.

Not Independent

Lifespan and its authorised representatives are not independent in relation to the provision of personal advice. Lifespan operates its own Managed Discretionary Account (MDA) service and receives fees in respect of the MDA service. Lifespan is an investment manager for some Managed Portfolios and receives fees in respect of this activity. Lifespan may also receive commissions from life insurance providers when we recommend life insurance to our clients. Lifespan may act as promoter and investment manager in conjunction with OpenInvest and may receive fees for promoting and managing the portfolios.

Who is responsible for the financial services provided to me?

Your adviser acts on behalf of Lifespan, who is responsible for the advice provided to you. However, your adviser may operate separate businesses and provide other services through those businesses, which are NOT authorised by Lifespan and do NOT involve Lifespan in any way, such as accounting, auditing, tax return preparation, self-managed super fund compliance and administration, property sales and referrals, and other products and activities. Lifespan is NOT responsible for any advice and services you receive from your adviser that are not authorised by Lifespan. If you are uncertain, you should ask either your adviser or Lifespan Head Office who is responsible for that particular advice, service, or transaction.

Does Lifespan have any relationships or associations with product issuers?

Lifespan operates its own Managed Discretionary Account (MDA) service and receives fees in respect of the MDA service. Lifespan is an investment manager for some Managed Portfolios and receives fees in respect of this activity. Lifespan may act as promoter and investment manager in conjunction with OpenInvest and may receive fees for promoting and managing the portfolios.

What financial services are available to me?

Our high-quality financial planning and advisory service involves:

- Identifying your financial needs, objectives, and circumstances;
- Establishing realistic and reasonable financial goals and needs;
- Determining your risk profile;
- Exploring the costs and benefits, potential risks and returns, advantages and disadvantages of the various strategies and financial products available to you to help you reach those goals within the limits of relevant laws and available solutions; and
- Recommending a course of action, agreeing on it with you and implementing it.
- You may also engage us to provide advice on an ongoing basis or for a fixed term.

Unless their authorisation is restricted (see the Adviser Profile), Lifespan advisers can generally provide you with sound advice relating to a wide range of important areas such as wealth creation, retirement, redundancy, superannuation, risk insurance, estate planning, Centrelink payments, cashflow management, budgeting and debt repayments, structuring of investment portfolios, borrowing to invest, complex company and trust structures, and so on. Lifespan's research and technical support services enable advisers to provide value-added advice on a broad spectrum of financial problems which takes into account relevant regulations pertaining to your financial position and goals.

Lifespan is licensed to deal in and provide financial advice on the following range of financial products: deposit and payment products, standard margin lending, managed investment schemes (including Investor Directed Portfolio Services and Managed Discretionary Accounts), securities including shares, Retirement Savings Accounts, superannuation, life insurance, investment and risk products and government issued debentures, stocks, and bonds.

If you would like to discuss any of these financial products, please contact your adviser.

How do I provide instructions?

Lifespan advisers will act on your instructions following your acceptance of their recommendations in your SOA. They and we should not act independently of your specific instructions (unless you decide to use Lifespan's MDA service). Instructions you provide should be communicated to your adviser in writing. These instructions should be forwarded in an email, fax or posted letter to your adviser.

Tailored, general and ongoing advice

Lifespan advisers usually provide advice tailored to your individual circumstances and also have the capacity to implement the advice they give, except where this may require the use of other professionals (for example accountants and lawyers). You may choose to enter into an agreement with your adviser to provide you with both initial advice and ongoing advice. If appropriate, we may also provide general advice only, where you are ultimately responsible for ensuring that this advice is suitable to your particular needs, objectives and financial situation. In this case, you should also obtain any relevant product disclosure statements to assist in this purpose.

Should I transfer investment monies to my adviser's account?

No. Lifespan does not allow advisers to receive your investment funds into their own account or into any Lifespan account. You should only transfer investment funds for a financial product to the approved financial institution that issues the financial product (as specified in the Product Disclosure Statement or similar document). You should never transfer investment funds to any other entity or person.

You should also not sign any blank forms or appoint your adviser as your attorney (or authorised signatory). You should not appoint any other person as your attorney or authorised signatory unless you have received legal advice.

What information should I provide to my adviser?

You will need to provide your adviser with your personal objectives and your current financial situation, including details of assets, liabilities, income and living expenses. This can best be accomplished by completing a Lifespan Client Data Form. The amount and type of information we will require from you depends on what financial services you require.

It is important that you provide us with complete and accurate information about your current personal circumstances and financial situation.

If you choose not to supply the required information or provide us with inaccurate information, the advice you receive may not be appropriate to your needs, objectives, and financial situation.

You should read the warnings contained in the SOA, check any assumptions we make and review the basis for our advice carefully before making a decision about whether to proceed with the advice. You should also obtain and read any relevant product disclosure statements prior to applying for a financial product.

How will I pay for the services provided?

Your adviser's specific method of remuneration and fees, including referral fees, are detailed in their Adviser Profile. The exact remuneration and fee details will be disclosed to you in your SOA.

All fees will be payable to Lifespan. If your adviser's remuneration includes commission paid by a product provider, such commission payment will be made to Lifespan. Lifespan retains between 0% and 40% of all commissions and fees we receive. The remainder is passed on to your adviser.

How are any fees, commissions or other benefits calculated for providing the financial services?

The three stages of financial planning are Initial Advice, Implementation, and further Advice. There is usually a separate fee for each of the three stages. Your adviser's remuneration structure for each advice stage will be found in their Adviser Profile and the dollar value disclosed to you in the SOA.

All commissions are payments made by the insurance product provider and are calculated as a percentage of the premium paid on insurance products. Commissions are of two types: (a) upfront or initial; and (b) renewal or trail.

Fees can be based on a percentage of funds invested or funds under advice, hourly rates multiplied by the hours worked, an agreed dollar amount for the value of the specific service being performed, or a combination of these.

The fees can be collected by platforms and other product providers.

The typical ranges of fee rates for investments and commissions for insurance products are as follows:

- Upfront fees usually vary between nil and 5.5% of the investment amount, with superannuation related fees being capped at 5%. Example: $100,000 investment using a platform may involve an upfront fee payment of, say, 3% or $3,000, which could be deducted from your investment account and paid to Lifespan, leaving a net investment of $97,000.
- Ongoing fees typically range from 0.5% to 1.5% pa. Example: A portfolio of $300,000 may be subject to an ongoing portfolio review fee of 1% per annum paid quarterly. This would amount to $3,000 per annum.
- Upfront commissions can be up to 66% of the premium paid on insurance products.
- Renewal commissions can be up to 33%.

All applicable fees and commissions will be agreed to with your adviser and disclosed in your SoA or other advice document.

What should I know about any risks of the investments or investment strategies you recommend to me?

Lifespan advisers may only recommend to you investment products that are researched, analysed and approved by Lifespan. Your adviser should explain any significant risks of investments and financial planning strategies. If the adviser does not do so, you should contact us to explain those risks to you.
